Lyn's interior design emphasis has been in Health Care and Hospital Facility based practice throughout the country for over 20 years. She has been involved in both inpatient and outpatient care environments, planning, designing and providing cutting edge interior products and furnishing. She has the knowledge and experience to lead a team, making recommendations as to spatial arrangements, interior materials, colors and furnishings.

With experience in Master Planning efforts, Lyn understands Health Care from an overall planning, functional relationships, users and patients' sense. She has the knowledge to respond to the needs of patients, staff and the public, with a coordinated interior design concept for all areas within a Hospital or Health Care Facility. She understands the differences between the interior needs of a Hospital compared to retail, commercial or residential type of project.

Her expertise has expanded into University, commercial, religious and institutional projects where her creative abilities have lead to exciting, durable and maintainable interiors for her clients. Lyn has the ability to listen to her clients and develop multiple palates of material and color selections, giving her clients flexibility to choose from a variety of ideas.

Lyn has worked in conjunction with teams of architects and planners during her entire career. She has also developed a strong client relationship, which insures her designs meet the goals and objectives and many of the wants of her clients. She plans functional interiors that work within the client's economic constraints and interior design/ image goals.
